DR. JOHN BULL.

SOMETHING
NEW AND VALUABLE.

The most powerful King on the face of the globe now reigns supreme in the American Republic. The power of the crowned heads of Europe sink into insignificance when compared to that of our American King.

GREAT AMERICAN KING.

Is the Tenth Wonder of the World, and the greatest blessing ever offered to afflicted humanity; to the suffering millions, the Doctor can say, relief is at your command. You have only to use this magical remedy.

To the winds with all ailments, Embrocations, Pain Killers and Pain Extractors, and let millions of glad tongues proclaim the merits of the great "American King of Pain," a preparation composed solely of vegetable and roots, prepared by America's own rich and boundless soil.

We would not, the Doctor, who are always competent judges of what is good and valuable, but millions of glad tongues proclaim the merits of the great "American King of Pain," a preparation composed solely of vegetable and roots, prepared by America's own rich and boundless soil.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE, KENTUCKY.

THIS institution occupies a high rank among Western Colleges. Its Library, Cabinet, Museum, and apparatus are unsurpassed. Its literary course is the same as that of Yale College, while its scientific course embraces all the best portions of the course at West Point.

For young men designed for practical business there is a course of three years in which a thorough knowledge is imparted in agricultural Chemistry, Physiology, Zoology, Civil Engineering, Principles of Commerce, and Book Keeping. In this practical feature the College is believed to be unequalled. Its high aim in to furnish American scholars, and American business men. The rapidly increasing number of Students in attendance is proof of its high rank and efficiency.

This seat of learning is no mere experiment, whose permanence is doubtful, and whose diploma is therefore of uncertain value. It is in a position to exercise and maintain a wholesome discipline without the fear of extinguishing merit; and to require of its students every thing which is necessary to their education. It has boarding arrangements adapted to all classes of students; and so adjusted as to avoid the dangers inseparable from the practice of crowding 150 or 200 young men into one building. Students for the ministry can board for about $40 per College year.

Others of known good moral habits, for about $65 or 70; while those who prefer boarding in private families can do so at from $80 to 100. No student is allowed to board in any family but such as the Faculty shall approve; and a strict and kind supervision is exercised by the faculty over every student wherever he may board.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions. The first commences on the third Monday in September; the second, on the first Monday in February.

COMMENCEMENT DAY

Occurs on the last Thursday in June. Tuition $20 per session.

The annual catalogue may be had by application to the President, Rev. D. R. Campbell, L. L. D.

Sec'y of the Board of Trustees.

CAN BE EFFECTUALLY CURED BY

DR. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS.

PREPARED BY
DR. C. M. JACKSON,
No. 120 Arch street, Philadelphia.

Their power over the above diseases is not encased, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures stated in many cases after skillful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most mercurial powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are, without fail, certain and pleasant.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.

H. W. Chaney, Millersburg, Ky., Oct. 16, 1852, writes: "Having used your Bitters some time, I find it has given me relief in every instance that has come under my notice."

Nelson & Edwards, Solvay, Ky., June 24, 1851, writes: "We rejoice to inform you that this justly celebrated medicine has fully maintained the excellent reputation which has been given it, and having tested its virtues we unhesitatingly say it is most deserving."

J. T. J. W. Herry, Uniontown, Ky., June 24, 1851, writes: "We have heard of many cures performed by the use of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, and believe it to be a valuable medicine."

J. Grant Irvine, Ky., June 26, 52, writes: "We have succeeded in introducing your Hoofland Bitters, physician and others purchase them by the half dozen and dozen."

Dr. E. F. & H. H. Knowlton, Tenn., April 9, 1851, writes: "Your Bitters are now selling very fast, and every person that has used it, so far as we have been able to learn, has been benefited."

These Bitters are NOTICABLY PLEASANT, they invigorate and strengthen the system, never operate in, and can be used for Infants as well as adults.

For sale by respectable dealers everywhere. Sold by T. S. Barkley & Co. Georgetown, and by Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

CARTER'S SPANISH MIXTURE.

The Great Purifier of the Blood!

Not a particle of Mercury in it.

AN INFALLIBLE REMEDY FOR SCROFULA, King's Evil, Rheumatism, Obsolete Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples or Blisters on the Face, Blotches, Eclat, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ring Worm or Tetter, Scald Head, Enlargement and Pain of the Bones and Joints, Stubborn Ulcers, Syphilitic Disorders, Lumbago, Spinal Complaints, and all Diseases arising from an injudicious use of Mercury. Impudence in Life, or Impurity of the Blood.

This valuable Medicine, which has become celebrated for the number of extraordinary cures effected through its agency, has induced the proprietors, at the urgent request of their friends, to offer it to the public, which they do with the utmost confidence in its virtue and wonderful curative properties. The following certificate, selected from a large number, are, however, stronger testimony than the mere word of the proprietors; and are all from gentlemen well known in their localities, and of the highest respectability, many of them now residing in the city of Richmond, Virginia.

F. BOYDEN, Esq., of the Exchange Hotel, Richmond, known every where, says he has seen the Medicine called Carter's Spanish Mixture administered in over a hundred cases in nearly all the diseases for which it is recommended, with the most astonishingly good results. He says it is the most extraordinary medicine he has ever seen.

AGUE AND FEVER—GREAT CURE.—I hereby certify, that for three years I had Ague and Fever of the most violent description. I had several Physicians, took large quantities of Quinine, Mercury, and I believe all the Tonics advertised, but all without any permanent relief. At last I tried Carter's Spanish Mixture, two bottles of which effectually cured me, and I am happy to say I have had neither Chills or Fevers since. I consider it the best Tonic in the world, and the only medicine that ever taught my cure.

JOHN LONGDEN.
Beaver Dam, near Richmond, Va.

C. B. LUKK, Esq., now in the city of Richmond, and for many years in the Post Office, has such confidence in the astonishing efficacy of Carter's Spanish Mixture, that he has bought upwards of 50 bottles, which he has given away to the afflicted. Mr. Lukk says he has never known it to fail when taken according to directions.

Dr. MINCE, a practicing Physician, and formerly of the City Hotel, in the city of Richmond, says he has witnessed in a number of instances the effects of Carter's Spanish Mixture, which were most truly surprising. He says in a case of Consumption, dependent on the Liver, the good effects were wonderful indeed.

SAMUEL M. DRINKER, of the firm of Drinker & Morris, Richmond, was cured of Liver complaint of 8 years standing, by the use of two bottles of Carter's Spanish Mixture.

GREAT CURE OF SCROFULA.—The Editors of the Richmond Republican had several employed in their press room, cured of violent Scrofula, combined with Rheumatism, which entirely disabled him from work. Two bottles of Carter's Spanish Mixture made the perfect cure of him, and the Editors, in a public notice, say they cheerfully recommend it to all who are afflicted with any disease of the blood.

STILL ANOTHER CURE OF SCROFULA.—I had a very valuable boy cured of Scrofula by Carter's Spanish Mixture. I consider it a truly valuable medicine. JAMES M. TAYLOR, Conductor on the R. F. & P. R. R. Co., Richmond, Va.

SALT RHEUM OF 20 YEARS STANDING CURED.

Mr. JOHN THOMPSON, residing in the city of Richmond, was cured by three bottles of Carter's Spanish Mixture, of Salt Rheum, which he had nearly 20 years, and which all the physicians of the city could not cure. Mr. Thompson is a well known merchant in the city of Richmond, Va., and his cure is most remarkable.

WM. A. MATTHEWS, of Richmond, Va., had a malignant cure of Syphilis, in the worst form, by Carter's Spanish Mixture. He says he cheerfully recommends it, and considers it an infallible medicine.

RICHARD E. WEST, of Richmond, was cured of Scrofula, and what Physicians called confirmed Consumption, by three bottles of Carter's Spanish Mixture.

EDWARD BURTON, Commissioner of the Revenue, says he has seen the good effects of Carter's Spanish Mixture in a number of Syphilitic cases, and says it is a perfect cure for that horrible disease.

WM. G. HARWOOD, of Richmond, Va., cured of Old Sores and Ulcers, which disabled him from walking. Took six bottles of Carter's Spanish Mixture, and was enabled to walk without a crutch, in a short time permanently cured.

SKY-LIGHT GALLERY OF ART!

S. T. BANCROFT,

HAS fitted up a Portrait Gallery, two doors below his former studio. The gallery is especially invited to call and examine closely and critically the beauty that decorates his walls. Ladies you cannot show your lovely faces in his room too frequently. Come often and fail not to bring your friends. All gentlemen who have a love for the beautiful are cordially invited to his Gallery. Mothers, would you have ever present with you, your darling children as they now appear? Get their portraits—Children would you have your parent's portraits as a rallying point around which the affections can gather when time shall have effaced from your memory the brightness of your mother's smile, the approving looks of a fond father?—Get them painted. Young Wives your husband's beauty like the flowers plucked and exposed to the sun, will surely fade. Husbands deter not too long the time that your wives shall sit for their portraits—it is an difficult to foretell the future. There is such an uncertainty in human affairs; a word to the wise is sufficient.

THE IMPORTED BULL PATHFINDER

Will be permitted to serve a few fine cows with calf.

Not more than ten cows can be received before the first of July, as his engagements are nearly complete up to that time.

In offering the services of this bull to the breeders of fine blooded Cattle, we invite their critical attention to his pedigree, on being if not unequalled, certainly, unsurpassed in the variety and purity of his cross, by that of any animal ever imported into America.

His pedigree on the dam's side will be found in the Kentucky Cultivator.

The pedigree of his sire are much too long for insertion in any public print. We would therefore only state now, that among his most immediate Grandfathers in such bulls, as are to be found the names of such bulls, as Buckhorn Hero (23238), Sir Thomas Fairfax (5196) Norfolk (2377) & Bates' second Hubback (4223) through which he descends in a direct line from Mr. Bates' celebrated Cow Damsel, the great original of what is known as the "Damsel strain" of short horns.

The Bulls have also been awarded prizes in England and America. Engravings of the first three are given in the Field Book, from which breeders may determine accurately the merits and demerits of this strain of stock.

The pedigree of Pathfinder is peculiarly exempt from the evils of too close breeding, indeed no "in and in" cross can be found in it, and we therefore have every reason to anticipate vigor of constitution and symmetry of form in his calves.

Cows sent from a distance will receive every attention, but we will incur no liability for accidents.

The Editor.

In a comfortable room an Editor set, in darkness in silence and sorrow; Not a crown to his soul, as the crown of his lint.

With a very bad fracture apparent in that, Nor a friend from whom he could borrow. And sadly he gazed on the rusty old grate, As he muttered a curse on his hapless fate, With none to assist, and none to save, His soul was as dark as the gloom of the grave.

As he mournfully mused of the morrow, For all, too well, the Editor knew, That to-morrow the bill for his board was due.

With the devil to pay, and his wash-woman, too

His dress was a suit of rusty black, His coat he had worn a year; Old papers, paste, a lamp with a crack, An old arm chair with a delicate back, A rickety table near, A handless mug, And a water-jug, Were his scanty furniture.

Thus sat he in his cheerless room, To watch the twilight lent the gloom; At length, with a desperate air, As if to bid all troubles cease, He fixed himself in a rickety chair, With heels upon the mantle piece.

Yet still he mused; but visions bright Upon his mind are gathering now, Like auras arising in the night, And from his breast and off his brow, The gleam is fading fast.

As on his fancy, vivid grow, The pictures of the past; What memory bids her gentle roll The weight of MANHOOD from his soul.

He dreamed, 'Twas of his childhood's home, And of those charmed and happy days, Remembrance never perishes from, But clingeth to, whilst life delays, He dreamed:—He was again a child; Familiar tones were in his ear, Again on him a mother smiled— He listened to her prayer, The merry laugh of sisters dear, Made music to his dreaming ear.

And now he smiled upon rippling stream To drink the trout with skillful hook; As 'neath its arching oaks he'd dream Away the day, o'er some deer book. And now he views each dearly scene— The tall church spire, the village green; The tavern standing near, The old that grew beside the mill, The old white school house on the hill, The play grounds in his rear.

And in his dreams he'd often smile, When he recalled the pranks so droll, That did his idle hours beguile, How often the Deacon's pipe he stole, And with powder loaded; How evily the Deacon swore!

A thing scarce ever known before, When the little thing exploded. And what a clamor there arose Amongst the congregation, Because it BLEW the Deacon's nose Almost from its foundation.

Aet eloge and tol the garden spot, That bloomed behind his father's cot, Where mournfully the willows wave Their branches o'er his mother's grave 'Tis past! and hard indeed it seemed

To wake and know he only dreamed! "Ah, well," he said, as he slowly arose, And hastily glanced on his thread bare clothes, Whilst a tear-drop crossed the bridge of his nose;

"Things at their worst most mend, For long in thence that has no turn" And longer that has no end."

Mo. FRENCH:

What are your thoughts at this time I cannot tell unless I consult the spirits or uromancers, or divines or sooth sayers, and to rely on such a source of information would be unphilosophical. Especially when seeking to know the mind of an independent editor, who looks at matters through his philosophical, spectacles. You may occasionally append a thought or two about your friend in the "for want." But I suppose your young wife and matters of state, occupy most of your time. By some strange metamorphosis of thought, you may be about to come to the conclusion that by this time, I may have lost my personal identity, by folding my arms and sinking calmly into the social delirium of conjugal blessedness. But I can assure your thoughtfulness, you are mistaken. I not yet free to roam n'er and admire the beautiful scenery of this western world. I wish you were here to ride with me across these delightful fields of God. He made them, and he'll call him work they throw for ever in the shade all attempts of man to imitate them. Beautifully undulating, clothed with beautiful green carpet spread out by the hand of God; and beautifully variegated with fragrant flowers, painted with his own pencil and perfumed with his breath bordered with grain groves, and occasionally dotted over with herds of grazing cattle. But why should I attempt describe what God has done. One glance at the natural scenes with the living eye bigger at once all deer pines.

Since I last wrote I have passed in most of my time in Lewis county. An two weeks of that time in Logan. It is a handsome young city of about 1000 or 1200 inhabitants. Situated on the Mississippi river. The part of the town on the hill, has a beautiful right up and down the river. From some points Quincy, can be plainly seen. I spoke there at night, for two weeks. We added 10 to the congregation. The place when our meeting commenced, (to the shame of professors) was much divided. But we trust that there is now union in feeling. I visited Canton also. It is a thriving place of about 1000 inhabitants, situated in an extensive bottom, about 6 miles above Lurgane, the back part of which is above high water mark. By the untiring exertions of D. P. Henderson, Jno. Junison and others, there is now in process of erection, on a beautiful eminence back of Canton in full view of town, the "Christian University" building. Its site is beautiful. Its foundation is about done of fine hewn stone. It will be an immense pile.

The county town of Lewis is Monticello about 12 miles from the river on North Faby. It is a healthy situation. It has some 5 or 600 inhabitants. I have also rode through Knox county and Edina its capital, of about 8 or 700 inhabitants. Lewis county and Knox, are tolerably fair counties of land, very productive generally rolling, but not well watered. Though the deficiency is being supplied by wells, ditches and ponds I have rode through Adair county up to this place which is its capital. The land here is good. Crops in all this country look well. This western country is indeed a great country. And if the climate here is better it could not be beat. Health here is tolerably good. This place has about 6 or 800 inhabitants. No more now. I expect to go from here to St. Joseph. My best wishes to my old friends and fellow citizens.

Yours truly,
JAS. L. THORNBERRY.

Mo. FRENCH:

My last to you was from Kirkeville Adair Co., Mo. The next day the 10th. I rode in a North westward direction riding over woodland of different kinds of soil and timber. About 1 of the clock. I entered a prairie. What I saw then and my thoughts and feelings, I will give as I expressed them to a friend in a private letter.—All at once burst upon my view an extended prairie. It was quite rolling. And its beautiful hills were covered, over with a most beautiful deep green mania, spread out by God's own hand. Enamelled with beautiful flowers, of the richest and most delicate tint. On either side and all around stood those beautiful hills, bordered, with the rich green foliage of the forest; occasionally dotted over with some clusters and a few scattered trees in heighten the beauty of the whole scene as you advance in these great fields of God; the scene is constantly changing. As often as you descend into a hollow and arise to the top of the front hill, a new scene is presented. And as

The black and white. It has grown very fast. It is now about eight years since I was born. It then had about 7 or 800 in habitants. It is the greatest business point above St. Louis. And its business is growing rapidly and is the most important thing that is now in the way of the progress of the city is the extension of the river. In eight years it has advanced on the city about 200 yards. They have moved a considerable number of houses back, and I fear only will have to be moved. The Missouri river up here, is an ugly old creek. It is like the passions of some men uncontrolled and uncontrollable. It is now rising and presents the appearance of a little sea of boiling chocolate. As for its boiling on its way, it brings up dirt and mire. A pretty good representation of the condition of an evil and corrupt heart. Since here I have not been out of great deal. I have only baptized two. I expect to preach the funeral of Anderson. My dearest nephew and son of the father before mentioned. These letters to you I hope will answer for the future I promised to write to my numerous friends; before I close I wish to say I saw my old friend Jno. Corby in St. Joseph. He has married a young wife looks well, and is well off so far as money matters are concerned. I believe he is a banker. Good luck to you and my old friends in Ky. Yours in sincerity, JAS. L. THORNBERRY.

With fond fidelity
And God to bless.
Mother, look not low
On grave so dark and low
So deep, so dreary,
No more so sadly mourn—
Thy darling one hath gone
To God above,
Shall come no more to thee,
But thou to her wilt flow
In after days;
And oh, what joy—delight,
To clasp thee angel bright,
In realms of love and light,
In Paradise.

Cona.
"License" or "No License."
We had intended to make some extended remarks upon the important question which comes up before the people of New Orleans, in this form, on Monday next. We, however, find ourselves limited in editorial; and it is probably as well, as our remarks brief and pertinent will be the more generally read and reflected upon.

We lay down in the first place as a fixed, incontrovertible principle, that a law which is impolitic and which cannot be enforced, augments what it was designed to prevent, and that its consequent violations are essentially demoralizing. Now, we assert that the population of New Orleans, resident and floating, is not prepared practically to support a decree of "no license." New Orleans is a peculiar city, swarming in winter with strangers and adventurers, few of whom are moralists and sufficiently numerous to tempt parties to furnish them with liquors even in violation of law.

Again: Our resident population, even in a city with fewer drawbacks than any other in the Union, indulges almost universally in an occasional social glass. From this habit men cannot be drawn in a day, or by any other than domestic and social reasons. Forced arbitrarily to abandon the habit of an occasional public, social drink, we apprehend many of them would take to the "private jug" system, and finally drink liquor for the love of liquor. It is a curious and suggestive fact, that in the last few days we have had several discussions with "no license" gentlemen and in every case, but one, they have wound up by inviting us into bar rooms to take a drink. We can't trust them to the "private jug" system; the expense of treating is a practical argument of temperance, if not of temperance.

Besides, we believe that it is the abuse and not the use of liquors which is consumable. We are in favor of the most stringent punishment of street drunkards and of every offense originating in the excessive use of liquors.

We believe the "no license" agitation to be practical, if honest, fanatical, totally incongruous to our latitude. We shall expect a movement to put down halls, theatres, etc., next. We believe strictly that morality is with God; and order with society, and that whilst society, may place penalties upon disorder it has no right to dictate what is or is not immorality. We remember it is a crime to be a Huguenot in France or a Roman Catholic in Great Britain.

To establish the "no license" rule would suddenly throw some twenty five hundred persons out of employment, and leave some four or five thousand without the immediate means of support. The regular and honest retailers of liquors would abandon their business, only to be succeeded by a host of clandestine traders, swarming in every street of the city. It would immediately withdraw thousands of dollars from the calculated revenue of the city, and make an increase of taxation immediately necessary. It would sensibly lessen the business and receipts of the following parties and occupations, to which and to whom coffee-houses now largely contribute: Lumber merchants and coal merchants; painters; white-washers; water works; manufacturers of soda and mineral waters; distilleries for syrups, etc.; merchants for the wholesale buyers, and others, of merchandise permitted to be introduced by the General Government; hoteliers for the lunches; servants employed in each establishment; clerks; grocery stores for glass, etc.; etc.; finishing stores and looking-glass houses; Municipality from $250,000 to $300,000 per annum, which must be put upon the property holders; the Government of the United States (decrease in its revenue) cars and drays; and newspapers.

A movement so novel, so eccentric, and so violently sudden in its operation, cannot meet with the approval or support of calm, sensible men. We shall have more to say on this subject, on Monday.—New Orleans Delta.

MASTER AND SLAVE.—At the Spring term of the Circuit Court of Sumter county, Hon. Alexander B. Clitherall presiding, Richard M. Esbridge, a planter of Sumter county, was indicted for mayhem, in disabling a leg of a negro woman slave in his possession.

The defendant was intoxicated, and about to whip the slave; she retreated with an axe in her hand; he seized his gun and shot her in the leg just below the knee, rendering amputation necessary. The Court charged the jury that if they believed from the evidence, that the defendant intended, unlawfully and maliciously, to disable the leg of the slave he was guilty of the charge. That the master had no absolute dominion over the slave, and to authorize a resort to such extreme force he must show that he acted in self-defense, or that the slave was in a state of rebellion, and the means used were absolutely necessary to reduce her to subjection.

After a retirement of some five or ten minutes, the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The defendant was sentenced by the Court to 11 years imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

We know nothing of the defendant, and therefore have no personal feelings in the matter, but we do rejoice that so signal an example has been made, that righteous retribution has been visited on one of the class of brutal slave holders, small as the class is, whose bad actions have done so much to bring disrepute upon the South. We commend this verdict to the consideration of Mrs. Stowe and her associates.—South Albionian.

Advertising.
As some of our business men, may not be fully impressed as they should be with the benefits to be derived from systematic advertising, we would call their attention to the following extract from one of our New York exchanges. It talks right to the point.

"With the sharp competition prevailing among those engaged in business—a competition which brings into operation all the energies a man possesses, which keeps him constantly upon the run during the day, and allows him little repose at night—it is especially important that persons advertise, and do it upon a comprehensive and liberal scale. It is not sufficient that an individual has been a long while in business, that his house is known to the older part of creation, and his reputation established to that circle; it is not sufficient that 'drummers' are employed to hunt up or run down customers; it is not sufficient that shrewd situations for mercantile transactions are secured, and some stores fitted up; these contrivances were all very well, and answered every purpose at an earlier period; but in these days of multiplied population and universal demand of railroads and steamers, of lightning and newspapers, they will not suffice. Times have changed; the road to wealth and competence has changed. People do not travel by post coaches now they take conveniences which are preposterous by a million. When the New York daily papers were printed upon hand presses, the enterprising merchant advertised in them, and thus accumulated his regular customers. But a great revolution has taken place—both the city and country have changed, as well as the manner of doing business. Men have adapted the go ahead principle. The American people have become a fast people. Everything goes with a rush. People make up less money with a rush than they did a year ago."

Mr. Clay said he wished the papers to pay the post office department the amount it costs to transport them through the mails.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—SENATE.—The consideration of the homestead bill was resumed, and Mr. Walsh made a long speech in favor of the bill and of giving the present extension of privileges to aliens.

HOUSE.—Mr. Kedwell presented a memorial from the Whooling and Kedwell bridge company, asking for an investigation into the charges preferred against Judge Grier.

The House then took up the river and harbor bill, and all of the amendments made in committee of the whole, were concurred in and the bill passed. Yeas 96, nays 76.

The House then went into committee on the army appropriation bill.

Mr. Stanton, of Kentucky, moved on amendment abolishing the military superintendency of the national armories, and to establish the civil supervision.

CONGRESSIONAL.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—SENATE.—A resolution that the Senate meet hereafter at 11 o'clock was adopted.

A bill granting land in alternate sections to the states of Louisiana, and Mississippi, for the construction of a railroad from New Orleans to Mobile, was taken up and passed.

The House bill providing for postal service in California, Washington and Oregon, was passed.

The bill granting public lands to aid in the construction of certain railroads in Missouri, was taken up and passed.

Mr. Chase, pursuant to notice, introduced his bill to prohibit slavery in the territory of the United States. He said the operative work of the bill were precisely those of Mr. Jefferson in 1784, of the celebrated ordinance of 1787, and of the Missouri resolutions. He said he did not doubt establishing the bill, nor asked action on it, until next session. It was read for the first time.

On the Homestead bill, Mr. Chase's motion to extend the benefits of the bill to aliens heretofore arriving in the U. S. was rejected. The 6th section was amended; yeas 37, nays 16, by striking out "any individual" and inserting "any free white person." Mr. Dixon moved the previous question that the benefit of the act should not extend to children, heirs or devisees of aliens born out of the United States, who are 21 years of age until they have filed a declaration to become citizens, which was adopted. Any foreign-born person failing to become citizens within six years after entering upon the lands shall forfeit all rights. Yeas, 34, nays, 9.

Mr. Benjamin moved to add that any native born person of 16 years, entering upon the cultivation of land shall be entitled to the same benefits as other persons, which was agreed to by yeas 26 to 20.

Mr. Clay moved an amendment that no foreigner, unless a naturalized citizen, could enjoy the benefits of the act unless he filed within 60 days evidence of having declared his intention.

Pending this amendment the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Cummings introduced a resolution providing for making a contract with Christian House Crockett, for the establishment of Mail Steamers between that and various points on the continent of Europe, referred. Various bills were reported and referred. Mr. Mace, from the Committee on Mail Steamers made a long report, treating generally of the service, showing that large expenditures of money have been made. The House then met the committee and took up the bill, providing for the completion of the Treasury building and interior department, and for a building for State and Interior departments, and for a similar building on the square next to the President's house for a War and Navy departments was passed. It appropriates $600,000 to commence the work. Several private bills were considered but not passed. A resolution was passed, distributing the works of Thos. Jefferson to the members, after which the House adjourned.

YOUTH AND MAIDENS.
Horace Mann, President of Antioch College, Ohio, is in favor of educating boys and girls in the same classes. This system has been tried for ten or twelve years, with the happiest results, in Oberlin College, in that State. The Home Journal thinks the plan not as Utopian as it at first seems. Mr. Mann says in a recent address:

Besides and beyond all this, I believe that the daily and thrice daily mingling of the sexes, with occasional interludes in social circles, will be morally advantageous to them. It will work both a moral restraint and intellectual excitement. That innate regard which each sex has for the other sex, over and above what it has for the same good qualities in its own—the difference between friendship and love—is too precious and too powerful an agency to be thrown away in the education of either. I believe it to be an agency which God meant we should make use of to promote the refinement, the progress and the elevation of them both. I believe it may be made to supersede many of our present coarse and crude instruments of discipline—the goads and bludgeons of punishment which are employed to rouse young men from the stupefaction of idleness or beat them back from the gateway of sin.

And what a state of society does it inevitably argue among parents and in the community at large, if young men and young women cannot be brought together to pursue those smouldering studies and to receive those apt instructions which prepare them for the highest duties of their common life, without mutual perils. And where in reason or in the divine commands, is there either warrant or pretext for the doctrine that those whom God unites together in the family, by birth, and whom, through the sacred ordinance of marriage, he designs for a still closer relation in after-life; where, I ask, is there any authority, human or divine, for selfish and violently separating these same parties for four or six or ten of the middle years of their existence?—those very years when they can best prepare themselves, by the elevation of whatever is in them of good, and the suppression of whatever is in them of evil, for a future companionship so intimate as to be lost identity. Such separation is obviously unnatural; add if it be necessary for the preservation of sexual purity, it is time that the whole community should take the alarm and hasten to devise a less monstrous remedy.

C. W. WOOLLEY, Esq.—It will be seen that our young friend, Charles W. Woolley Esq. offers his services, in the legal profession, to the public. He has just been admitted to the bar, for the duties of which he has received a most thorough training. With natural talents of a high order, he has had a fine education, and with manners highly popular, an address at once winning and pleasing, and a generous and manly disposition and character, he cannot fail soon to reach a high position as a legal practitioner. We have always had a cordial liking for Mr. Woolley, and wish him abundant success.

Stateman.

The Ohio liquor law passed by the legislature of that State at its late session, has been declared to be unconstitutional by the courts of that State, and all prosecutions under it consequently fail.

TO THOSE WHO INTEND PURCHASING a Piano this year, we beg leave to say that between this and the 1st of August will be the most favorable time to do so, if prices are any consideration.—We shall have our old and well known stand about that time, and wishing to reduce our stock as much as possible, for that purpose, we will sell a first class Piano Forte at from 10 to 15 per cent. less than usual prices. It is generally known that our stock consists principally of Chickering's, Woodward & Loew's, T. Gilbert & Co's (with Eolian attachment) and J. Worcester's Pianos—instruments which cannot be surpassed, as numerous certificates, and the diplomas they have so often received for superiority over other instruments, must fully substantiate. Do not let this opportunity pass for obtaining a very fine Piano at a very low price; for we assure you such a chance as this present may never again be offered.

Guitars, Accordions, Violins, Brass Instruments, Sheet Music and Music Books on the same terms.

Lost, not lost, Geo. A. Prince & Co's superior Melodions.

Lines to Mary D.
The fair young moon is smiling now,
Across the vault of blue,
And fleecy clouds in homage bow,
And pay their tribute too,
And little stars with sweetest shine,
After fur in Heaven's deep,
And in the shadow of Henry's shroud,
Their sparkling eyes now sleep.

And now, to night, all Heaven seems,
Array'd in robes of white;
And every little star now gleams
With sweet and lovely light;
They tell me of the Harp's band,
Where all are light and free,
As they "round the lute" play, stand,
With hearts, brimfull of glee.

Yet Mary, while I look on these,
The lovely scenes of night,
And catch the soft and gentle breeze
Passing through my hair,
My heart, although in doleful guise,
Is always, love and glad,
For here, I find not thy sweet voice,
Thou art not here, my glad.

Now May, their queen, and queen of light,
Sits covered with a shroud,
And now her face once lovely bright,
Through you unthought of cloud,
Seems pale and has a sickly hue—
But O! from scenes on High
To earthy things—that blast, here too,
Ere off doth sweeten try.

Of while the merry laughter peals
All through the banquet hall,
And each one, drowned in pleasure feels,
Is ready for his call;
But then while drawing out the breath,
All mused by the vine,
The dark and morbid hand of DEATH,
Writes for him, "thou art mine."

From these I have a secret fear,
My fondness hopes seem blighted,
They ever give forebodings dear,
And long dark shadows cast;
For O! they tell the bad may die,
Before it has its bloom,
And pleasure's halls in minute flight,
May all be wrapp'd in gloom.

All these may be, my this huge world,
And all its burden must
In the deep gulf of Time be hurl'd
And madd' return to dust.
But while, I have a transient star,
Something a solace brings
And draws the flu to Earth in day—
That's worth the wealth of Kings.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

SAM KEENE is puffing forth his Tobacco, embossed with high-sounding names,—done up in sugar and labeled in gold.

Gentlemen, we have just received several varieties of the weed which we could very properly call the "Elley Elgie," the "Sam Keene," the "Lewie Thifford," &c., &c., having been tested and approved by three gentlemen at acknowledged taste and refined sensibilities. As we think however, there is but little in a name, we offer the article upon its own true merits.

READ THIS—MEDICINE FOR THE RAPIDLY—DR. HALL continues to be consulted at the Office, No. 1, Union Block, west entrance, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. H. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them failed to cure the most piercing cases of

GONORRHEA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, impotence, Morbidity, Gonorrhoea, Ulcers, pains and distresses in the regions of Prostitution, Inflammation of Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Hemorrhoids, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailment of childhood.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. H. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of these cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for either business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are, weakness of the back and limbs, dizziness of the head, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, nervous derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage consult a physician of experience and skill and be at once restored to health and happiness.

AGUE AND FEVER cured in 24 hours, warranted.

All letters addressed to Dr. L. Hall, box 1364, Cincinnati, O. Medicines sent to any address safely packed and secured from observation.

Office at No 1 Union Block, Third-street, bet. Seymour and Broadway.

GEORGETOWN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

The 3rd session will commence on Monday, Jan. 23.

THIS Institute is provided with competent teachers in the several departments of Drawing and Painting, oil and water colors, Embroidery, French, Vocal music, Piano &c. as well as all the usual branches of a thorough English course. The number of instructors has been increased by the addition of an accomplished teacher from the East, whose services have been secured to commence with the session.

Miss Davis, who has succeeded so admirably in her department, during the past session, will continue to give lessons on the Piano. Mrs. H. gives her personal attention to the school.

The large and elegant mansion with extensive and beautiful grounds recently purchased, furnish for the school one of the most delightful and healthy locations in the state—provided abundantly with the best of water, and retired from the noise and bustle of the street, with ample room for healthy and invigorating exercise, in the midst of the beautiful in art and the lovely in nature.

From a previous acquaintance with the various modes of instruction adopted by the best teachers in the East and West, and the success of eighteen years experience as an educator, the undersigned hopes, by uniting devotion to the school, to meet the educational wants of the community.
